CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Ninth Day.

SATURDAY, JUNE 9.

After routine business the Convention went into committee of the whole, Coun. Allen in the chair.

ARTICLE 63. TITLES OF LAWS.
Each law shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.

The title of a law amending or repealing another law shall refer to the section or chapter of the law amended or repealed and to the subject-matter involved.

ARTICLE 64. READINGS OF LAWS.
A bill in order to become law, shall, except as herein provided, pass three readings in each House, the final passage of which, in each House, shall be by a majority vote of all the electors.

The title of a law amending or repealing another law shall refer to the section or chapter of the law amended or repealed and to the subject-matter involved.

ARTICLE 65. CERTIFICATION OF BILLS FROM ONE HOUSE TO THE OTHER.
Every bill when passed by the House in which it originated, or in which amendments thereto shall have been adopted, shall immediately be certified by the Chairman and Clerk and sent to the other House for consideration.

ARTICLE 66. SIGNING BILLS.
Except as herein provided, all bills passed by the Legislature, shall, in order to be valid, be signed by the President.

All passed.

ARTICLE 67. VETO OF PRESIDENT.
Every bill which shall have passed the Legislature, shall be certified by the Chairman and Clerk of the House last considering it, and shall thereupon be presented to the President. If he approves it he shall sign it and it shall thereupon become a law. If the President does not approve such bill, he may return it with his objections, to the several Houses of the Legislature.

He may veto any specific item or items in any bill which appropriates money for specific purposes; but shall veto other bills, if at all, only as a whole.

"Thereupon" was stricken out and the Article passed.

ARTICLE 68. FAILURE TO SIGN OR VETO.
If the President neither signs nor vetoes a bill within ten days after it is delivered to him, it shall become law without his signature, unless the Legislature adjourns prior to the expiration of such ten days.

In computing such period of ten days, Sundays, holidays recognized by the laws of the Republic, and the day upon which the bill is delivered to the President shall be excluded.

Pres. Dole moved a verbal amendment, but a motion by Min. Smith, to refer to Committee on Business, carried.

ARTICLE 69. PROCEDURE UPON RECEIPT OF VETO.
Upon the receipt of a veto message from the President, each House of the Legislature shall enter the same at large upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider such bill, or part of a bill, and again vote upon it by ayes and noes, which shall be entered upon its journal.

If after such reconsideration such bill, or part of a bill, shall be approved by a two-thirds vote of all the electors members to which each House is entitled, it shall thereby become law.

ARTICLE 70. APPROPRIATIONS.
SECTION 1. Appropriations, except as otherwise herein provided, shall be made biennially by the Legislature.

Min. Damon moved to strike out the words, "except as otherwise herein provided."

Min. Smith thought the Advisory Council should have power to appropriate money in emergencies, especially as no indemnity bills were allowed.

Del. Robertson moved to strike out the whole section. It might prevent appropriations being made in special sessions of the Legislature.

Pres. Dole said it compelled the Legislature to make biennial appropriations.

Min. Smith contended the precaution implied was necessary to prevent a deadlock.

Min. Damon wanted the Article deferred until the discussion of the Advisory Council.

The section was referred to the Executive Committee.

SECTION 2. The Minister of Finance shall submit to the Senate, at each regular session of the Legislature, appropriation bills for the succeeding biennial period.

SECTION 3. No appropriation bill or bill providing for a national loan shall be introduced by anyone except a member of the Cabinet.

Provided, however, that any member may introduce a bill amending the permanent appropriation bill for salaries and pay rolls herein provided for.

ARTICLE 71. METHOD OF VOTING FOR REPRESENTATIVES.
Every elector shall be privileged from arrest on election day, during his attendance at election, and in going to and returning therefrom, except in case of breach of the peace then committed, or in case of treason or felony.

No elector shall be so obliged to perform military duty on the day of election, as to prevent his voting, except in time of war, or public danger, or absence from his place of residence in actual military service, in which case provision may be made by law for taking his vote.

Carried that the two paragraphs be numbered Section 1 and Section 2, and the Article passed.

ARTICLE 72. EXEMPTION OF ELECTORS ON ELECTION DAY.
Every elector shall be privileged from arrest on election day, during his attendance at election, and in going to and returning therefrom, except in case of breach of the peace then committed, or in case of treason or felony.

No elector shall be so obliged to perform military duty on the day of election, as to prevent his voting, except in time of war, or public danger, or absence from his place of residence in actual military service, in which case provision may be made by law for taking his vote.

Carried that the two paragraphs be numbered Section 1 and Section 2, and the Article passed.

ARTICLE 73. METHOD OF VOTING FOR REPRESENTATIVES.
Every elector shall be privileged from arrest on election day, during his attendance at election, and in going to and returning therefrom, except in case of breach of the peace then committed, or in case of treason or felony.

No elector shall be so obliged to perform military duty on the day of election, as to prevent his voting, except in time of war, or public danger, or absence from his place of residence in actual military service, in which case provision may be made by law for taking his vote.

for the purposes therein set forth, subject to such amendments and additions thereto, as may from time to time be made by the Legislature. Passed.

THE LEGISLATURE.
ARTICLE 71.

SECTION 1. The first regular session of the Legislature shall be held on the third Wednesday in February, A. D. 1896, and biennially thereafter, in Honolulu.

Coun. Emmeluth, in the course of discussion, said he should endeavor to have the election of President on a more liberal basis than in the draft.

The section passed.

SECTION 2. Neither House shall adjourn, during any session, for more than three days, or sine die, without the consent of the other.

SECTION 3. If either House shall adjourn without the consent of the other, the other House may proceed to legislate as though it were the sole legislative body, and may exercise the full powers of the Legislature.

Mr. Emmeluth thought it should be provided that they must not adjourn to another place.

The section passed.

SECTION 4. Each session of the Legislature shall continue not longer than ninety working days.

Provided, however, that the President, with the approval of the Cabinet, may prolong such session to not exceed one hundred and twenty days.

Coun. McCandless moved to substitute "sixty" for "ninety."

Del. Baldwin did not believe in rushing legislation. He thought there was too much of that in 1887.

Del. Carter considered there was a substantial difference between a body of fifteen and one of forty-eight members.

Del. Kahanalo did not favor the amendment. Sixty days was entirely too short. He thought they should raise the number of members.

Min. Damon said that as the country would grow in wealth and population more careful attention would have to be given to the making of laws. With reference to that short session of the Legislature of 1887, it was a fact that more of its laws were declared unconstitutional than from any other session.

The amendment lost.

Pres. Dole thought a word should be put in to more clearly define the extension limit.

Del. Carter moved to insert, after "may," "extend such session for not more than 30 days."

Del. Robertson moved to substitute "one hundred" for "ninety," and strike out the extension provision. There could be a special session called immediately if there was important business.

Pres. Dole And draw the extra salary.

Del. Ables generally agreed with Del. Robertson, but he could not on this occasion. A great deal of the troubles of the past had been due to too much legislation.

Del. Vivas opposed the limitations altogether. The Legislature might want to wait three steamers from the Coast for news from Washington.

Coun. Smith moved to strike out all the words after "session" in the second place.

Min. Smith said the matter had been carefully considered in the drafting, and it was deemed best to confine the Legislature to 90 days.

Coun. Ems did not agree with some of the previous speakers. The Legislature had the matter in its own hands, because if the Cabinet did not do right it could be voted out.

Pres. Dole feared "working" might make the section ambiguous, and moved that "working" be struck out, and "excluding Sundays and holidays" be inserted.

Del. Carter's amendment passed, also Pres. Dole's.

SECTION 5. Special sessions of the Legislature shall be held at such times as may be indicated by the President in manner herein provided, or at such other times as are herein specially provided.

Passed.

A motion by Del. Carter to rise was lost.

ELECTORS.
ARTICLE 72. EXEMPTION OF ELECTORS ON ELECTION DAY.

Every elector shall be privileged from arrest on election day, during his attendance at election, and in going to and returning therefrom, except in case of breach of the peace then committed, or in case of treason or felony.

No elector shall be so obliged to perform military duty on the day of election, as to prevent his voting, except in time of war, or public danger, or absence from his place of residence in actual military service, in which case provision may be made by law for taking his vote.

Illinois, where it had worked satisfactorily for thirty years.

Del. Carter's amendment carried. Del. Carter moved that the Article be referred to the Committee on Executive. He could not vote intelligently on it until there was a decision on the principle of cumulative voting.

Pres. Dole understood the Article on Representatives was not referred but deferred.

Coun. Tenney moved the committee rise and report progress, and ask leave to sit again. Carried.

At 11:50 the Convention adjourned until Tuesday at 9:30.

The Tagawa Coal Mine is located in Fukuoka Ken in the Island of Kinshui, Japan, and was discovered about twenty years ago. It was owned by the government and mined simply for the government's use.

Great improvements, however, were made since it was sold to a corporation about six years ago, by importing mining machinery from Europe and America.

Tagawa Coal is used more than all other Japanese coals in the following countries: China, Manila and Strait Settlements. It has found its way even to Bombay.

Two cargoes have been imported into the Hawaiian Islands recently, and it has no superior in this market as stove or steam coal.
